

MATTHEW MITCHELL

Director of Global Marketing, Specialty Engineered Materials, Avient Corporation

Matt Mitchell is the Director of Global Marketing for the Specialty Engineered Materials (SEM) division at Avient Corporation. In this role, he and his global team are responsible for strategy, industry and product management, pricing, and product development programs.

Matt has been with Avient for four years and, prior to that, led a technology-based business for Avery Dennison's adhesive segment, STERIS's pharmaceutical and sterilization segment, and Swagelok's business for fluid management systems in North America and Asia.

Matt holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Grove City College and a Master of Business Administration in Finance from the University of Pittsburgh.