

MAYENDRAN PILLAY

Marketing Director, Color & Additives, North America, Avient Corporation

Mayendran Pillay is the Marketing Director for the Color & Additives division in the United States and Canada at Avient Corporation, a premier provider of sustainable materials and service solutions. Mayendran oversees all marketing activities, including industry and product management, ColorWorks™, strategy, and the marketing aspects of innovation.

Mayendran has over 20 years of experience with Avient, working across multiple disciplines and countries, including sales, key account management, general management, marketing, and innovation.

Mayendran studied polymer chemistry and technology at the Tshwane University of Technology and business management at the University of Pretoria (Gordon Institute) in his home country, South Africa.

He is passionate about developing and driving sustainable solutions for industries and customers that have a meaningful impact on their business and the planet.